« CIDADE MARAVILHOSA »

Rio, known as 'marvellous city', is at the centre of a region that is full of contrasts with an incomparable diversity of natural features: mountains, ocean, forests, beaches and open landscapes provide a harmonious mixture.

A city of welcome and fetes with a single objective: to make you dream, from the Copacabana beach to Rio Carnival where everyone shares their happiness through the samba. Rio, which never stops surprising visitors, also has the world's largest urban tropical park, the Tijuca forest.

In the midst of nature's luxuries, there is also a great cultural and architectural richness that makes Rio one of the world's 'must visit' cultural and tourist destinations.

AN EXCELLENT TOURIST CENTRE

Rio de Janeiro is Brazil's cultural capital and is renowned for being a cosmopolitan city. It is famous for its tourist potential and is an unavoidable destination but it also has a bustling economy in major manufacturing sectors such as metallurgy, steel, engineering, chemicals and mining. But above all else, Rio de Janeiro is the petrochemical capital of Brazil and a major business centre.

The city is one of the top ten South American destinations for hosting international events and has remarkable modern infrastructures (international airport, metro, urban railways, etc.).
